What makes WSE unique?

Unique website with advanced search and screening capabilities

The WSE website is the only open platform where investors can search using a multitude of search options across all global markets. On most sites, your company can only be found if the investor knows your company name or symbol. At WSE, the investor can find your company according to his or her own investment criteria.

Global Platform

WSE is the only one-stop global website providing free-of-charge access to data on public companies from stock exchanges around the world with enhanced screening and search capabilities to identify companies and access stock exchange and regional economic information.

Company's Voice

At WSE, a company has more opportunities than ever to create its own message, information and branding. WSE is the only platform that provides a company with a medium to tell its unique story to millions.

On-going and single updates with immediate broadcasting

Your company's profile and headline news can be translated into English and will appear on the WSE website. Company information can be updated automatically at any moment in time. When your information is updated on WSE, Standard & Poor's WSE will broadcast your information to other sites.

Stock Exchange and Event Directories

A company's profile is also included in print directories, providing additional visibility at investment conferences, events, and among institutional and private investors.

Reports and Reprints

Profiled companies receive a Standard & Poor's profile report in PDF format, updated after every financial reporting period. Companies can include the PDF on its own website for investors to download. Companies also receive glossy paper reprints of their profile for IR use.

Download Section

Each profiled company has an option to include other corporate materials in its profile, including management presentations, financial highlights and other IR information.

Enhance your own IR website

Standard & Poor's gives you a tool to install your English language company profile on your own corporate website. When information is updated on WSE, your corporate website will be updated automatically.

Statistics and Investor Inquiries

Profiled companies receive detailed statistics and demographics about visitors to their corporate profile at WSE. Investor inquiries are sent to the IR contact person with contact details of the potential investor.

Standard & Poor's
WORLD

WSE's Mission

WSE was developed after countless corporate and stock exchange meetings, CFO presentations and IR department discussions. Standard & Poor's is proud to provide you with these exciting new tools. We strive for excellence and will continue to develop and add new features in response to company and market demands.
